REG TREACY

INTERNATIONAL CAREER : 1960 - 1974

INTERNATIONAL CAPS : 53

POSITION : FORWARD

Reg Treacy made history in Irish hockey when he became the first player to amass 50 caps for Ireland. A strong, attack-minded player, Treacy had an eye for goal and developed the reputation as a dangerous forward, who preferred to play on the left side of the field. A player of exquisite touch and skill, the Munster man's weaving runs were to the delight of spectators and the torment of defenders. Treacy was one of the few players who played for Ireland in both of the first two European Nations Cups in Brussels (1970) and Madrid (1974).
