Legends of Irish Hockey

Steven (or 'Stevie') Johnson was one of the true legends of Irish hockey in the 1950's. Johnson captained both Ulster and Ireland and amassed 20 Ireland caps. However, it is his participation in the 1956 Melbourne Olympic Games for which he is best remembered, where he captured bronze medal with the Great Britain team. Employed mostly at fullback, Johnson was a versatile utility player who also played at left half and centre half.
